TO PRESERVE HISTORIC CHURCH

Movement Started To Preserve Historic Old Cane Ridge Church

SUBSCRIPTION PAPERS OUT

A movement has been started in Paris for the purpose of preserving the historic old Cane Ridge Christian church, and the adjacent grounds, so that future generations may still have the privilege of seeing the place which has been termed very aptly "The Cradle of Christianity."

The general public is familiar with the history of the old church, in a way. It was here that some of the greatest preachers of the Christian church, later termed the Disciples Church, swayed multitudes by their eloquence, and gave an added impetus and strength to the religious movement, which was then struggling for existence. The old church and its pioneers have been the subject of many contributions to the local and foreign papers, as well as to religious papers and magazines, all over the country. For a time it lacked the care that should have been given to the old church, but loving hands took it in charge and restored it to its rightful place. Back in the early days of the country's history the old Cane Ridge church was the meeting place for hundreds of enthusiastic worshippers, history recording their devotion, and their trials and struggles.

It is now proposed to solicit contributions for the purpose of preserving for all time the old church and the graveyard adjoining where repose the dust of many distinguished pioneers and workers in the church. To this end subscription papers have been placed in the hands of Mr. J. Will Thomas, of Paris, who will call on the people in a few days. The text of the papers is as follows:

"Whereas, It is desirable to preserve, as far as possible, and as long as possible, the old Cane Ridge Christian church, located at Cane Ridge, in Bourbon county, consisting of about four acres of land, with a frame church building and a graveyard containing the monument of Barton W. Stone and many others.

"Now, the undersigned subscribers of this paper agree to pay the amount set opposite his or her respective name, to raise a fund, the income of which shall be used for this purpose aforesaid, and the said fund shall be payable to J. W. Thomas, Chairman of this Subscription Committee, to be held by him until a trustee shall be selected by the congregations of the Christian churches of Bourbon county, to take charge and management of same in such a manner as may be directed by said congregations."

CHILD INJURED BY AUTO

The dangers attendant upon attempting to cross Main street while the thoroughfare is congested with automobile and vehicular traffic, was given a demonstration Saturday afternoon.

About five o'clock, while the traffic was at its highest point and autos as numerous as leaves on a tree, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Metzgar, of Parish avenue, wandered away while her mother's attention was momentarily distracted, and darting across the street, was struck by a machine, said to have been driven by M. O. Biddle. According to spectators, the child was directly in front of the machine before the driver discovered her presence, and he swerved, the car to one side in order to avoid striking her. The child was knocked down and seriously bruised.

Dr. Lee R. Henry, of North Middletown, who was passing at the time, picked the little girl up and took her to the People's Pharmacy, where her injuries were given medical attention, and she was taken to her home. No blame was attached to Mr. Biddle, as the accident was clearly unavoidable.

PROGRESS OF THE BURLEY CAMPAIGN

Only Thirty Days Remain For The Growers To Sign Up.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES NOV. 15.

With a barbecue and burgoo at Danville yesterday, addresses by Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, at Georgetown, Wednesday, and at Cynthiana, Thursday, and the return of Aaron Sapiro, of California, to Kentucky, for a conference with the workers in the tobacco campaign at Lexington, Friday, the week's program of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is a comprehensive one, and marks the start of the final month of the campaign to sign 75 per cent of the tobacco crop of the Burley district to the co-operative marketing plan of the association.

The local campaign has progressed to the point where about ninety per cent of the Bourbon county tobacco crop has been signed with the Association plan. This is a great showing, much better than most of the counties in Central Kentucky, but it is the desire of the campaign managers to make it an even one hundred per cent. The time to do this is right now, "while the iron's hot." Less than a month remains in which to pool this crop of tobacco in the Burley Association marketing plan, and if the farmers of oBourbon county wish to obtain a reasonable price for their tobacco their only hope is to put it in the Association's hands, and permit them to receive, handle and dispose of the 1921 crop as a whole.

Remember last January, when your tobacco crop was not worth hauling to Paris? The same thing can happen again, and doubtless will happen unless the entire crop is pooled and disposed of intelligently. Remember, tobacco growers that the campaign for signatures to the Association's contracts must close on November 15, and if by chance some of the other counties fail to sign up enough, the marketing plan may be lost, solely because some of the Blue Grass counties failed to sign up around one hundred per cent., thereby supplying the deficiency of the seventy-five per cent, throughout the district lacking in some other locality.

There are yet a large number of growers in this county who are not members of the Association. To them it should be a pleasure to seek Chairman Clay or one of his assistants and sign up their tobacco. Help make the Association plan a great success for all time. But thirty days remain, so do your part at once, and come in.

So important is this movement deemed that it has been suggested the retail merchants of Paris could render a great service to the community by joining Chairman Clay and his assistants and visiting personally every grower in the county who has not signed the marketing plan contract.

Mr. Kennedy was well known to nearly all the country newspaper men in the Ohio Valley. He conducted a printer's supply house on Main street for years, and was a gentleman of the highest character. The news of his death was received with regret by his legion of friends in the country printing houses.

KENTUCKY SYNOD CLOSES SESSIONS

Meeting Enlivened By A Resolution To Merge The Two Synods

BOWLING GREEN IN 1922

The three-days' sessions of the Synod of Kentucky of the Presbyterian church came to an end Thursday night with an eloquent sermon by Rev. R. L. Telford, D. D., of Richmond. The sessions were full of interest and were attended by large crowds each night and day.

Bowling Green was selected as the place for holding the next Synod, on the fourth Tuesday in September, 1922. A resolution was passed asking the next State Legislature to repeal that section of the Kentucky statutes which legalizes the use of the pari-mutual system of betting on race tracks.

The outstanding feature of the Synod was the report of the Commission on Schools and Colleges, which was a part of the joint commission of the two Synods of Kentucky. The Commission reported to both Synods that Centre College at Danville had severed its connection with the Carnegie Foundation, and so changed its articles of incorporation as to its being under the joint control of the two Synods, and that the Kentucky College for Women, also at Danville, had likewise come under the control of the two Synods by a similar change of charter.

The afternoon session was enlivened by the appearance on the floor of about fifty laymen of the Transylvania Presbytery, the Northern branch, who presented a resolution calling for the uniting of the Northern and Southern branches of the church, and asked for its adoption. The argument which followed was a warm one. The matter was finally placed in the hands of a committee with the understanding, as one minister put it, that it was not to report for the next ten years.

During the excitement following the presenting of the resolution the members forgot they were to make a motor trip to the Xalapa Farm, of Mr. Edward Simms, near Paris, and on account of the lateness of the hour, the invitation was declined.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday a resolution voicing the thanks of members of the Synod to the people of Paris for kindnesses extended during their stay here was read by the pastor, Rev. T. S. Smylie.

BURNING GREASE PAN CAUSES FIRE ALARM

The fire department was called about 5:15 Saturday afternoon by an alarm from Box 25 to a home on Cypress street. A pan of grease caught fire in the kitchen, the resultant smoke causing a neighbor to send in an alarm. The department subdued the smoke and flames with a chemical extinguisher.

LIVELY TIMES IN THE COUNTY COURT

In the County Court, Wood Fisher, a young white man who resides near Centerville, was brought before Judge George Batterson and fined $10 and costs for an assault upon Frank Faulkner, another young man of the same neighborhood, and of about the same age. The difficulty arose over the attentions of the two young men to the same girl in the neighborhood.

Dave Washington, who had previously been before the Court on the charge of failing to provide for his five small children, was again arrested on the same charge. He was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail.

Ed. Frakes and Will Flowers, both colored, were presented in the Court on a charge of shooting at without wounding. On motion of County Attorney Cline, Flowers was dismissed and was used as a witness against Frakes. The evidence was insufficient to hold the latter and he was released. During the progress of the trial Robert Reynolds, colored, testified in direct contradiction of Deputy Sheriff R. M. Gilkey, and was arrested on a charge of perjury.

COLORED CHURCH REFUSED PERMIT

Council Refuses Building Permit To Colored Baptist Church

COUNCIL ADOPTS ORDINANCE

At the last regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, the outstanding feature was a heated controversy between representatives of the city of Paris and Attorney Wade H. Whitley, representing the Board of Trustees of the colored Baptist church. The Council refused to grant a permit to the Trustees for the erection of a brick church building on the lot recently purchased by them on Short and Sycamore streets, the proposed building to cost in the neighborhood of $40,000.

The lot which was purchased by the Trustees of the church was several months ago placed in the hands of a local real estate agency to be sold. The Trustees expressed a willingness to buy the property for a church location. The price of $2,500 was set on the lot, which was agreed to by the church officers. Before closing the sale the real estate people made a canvass of the neighborhood and offered to sell the property to any of the white neighbors for the same figure. No one apparently desired to invest in the property and it was finally sold to the church.

The Council refused to grant the permit for erection of the building on the grounds that an insufficient number of property-owners adjacent to the proposed site had not been properly notified. The matter was again brought before the Council, and permission to build was refused because, it was alleged, some of the adjoining property-owners had offered objections. The property is bounded by two streets, both of which are peopled by colored people. Attorney Wade H. Whitley, as representative of the church, gave notice that he would file a mandamus suit asking that the city be required to grant the permit.

Following the meeting of the Council the usual ordinance was adopted and ordered published, prohibiting the erection of a building to be used for other than residence purposes, where a lot is located on a square bounded by at last two streets, which are used principally for residence purposes, without first obtaining the consent of a majority of the property owners.
